

UMass Week on the War - Artistic Expression Presents

Thrown Together: Soldiers and Civilians in The War Zone

Thursday, November 10, 7:00 p.m.

W.E.B. duBois Library, 2nd Floor Reading Room, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

"Thrown Together" is the opening event for two exhibits on display November 7-12. at the library. Comments and reflections by artists and project coordinators, Matt Mitchell and Claudia Lefko and Vietnam veteran Al Miller, from the Veterans Education Project will be followed by questions, answers, and discussion.

100 Faces of War Experience:
Portraits and Words of Americans
Who Have Served in Iraq or Afghanistan
Matt Mitchell, Artist

The Iraqi Children's Art Exchange Project:
Photographs by Claudia Lefko
and Children's Art from Baghdad

The event is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

This event is being presented with help from the Students Against the War, UMass Anti-War Coalition, Palestine Action Coalition, University of Massachusetts Libraries, The Veterans Education Project, and the UMass Arts Council

For more info on the "Week on the War", visit <http://www.StudentsAgainstTheWar.com/weekonthewar.htm>

